Georgia – Country Profile

Introduction
Georgia is located between Asia and Europe and occupies a land area of 69,700 sq. km. It neighbour Turkey to the southwest, Azerbaijan to the east, Russia to the north and Armenia to the south.

Georgia declared independence on 9 April 1991, following the dissolution of the Soviet Union.

Economy
Georgia achieved robust economic growth between 2003-2014, averaging 6.3 percent annually, following structural reforms that stimulated capital inflows and investment. The reforms helped to improve the business environment, strengthened public finances, upgraded infrastructure facilities and liberalized trade. Growth was also supported by increased foreign direct investments (FDI) and was driven by capital accumulation and sound use of excess capacity rather than by net job creation, with productivity gains concentrated mainly in the non-tradable sectors. GDP per capita increased from $919 in 2003 to $3,763 in 2014 (in current prices, 2014 - preliminary data). GDP growth rate amounted to 4.7% in 2014. According to IMF, Georgia has one of the highest forecasted GDP growth rates among Eastern European countries and its neighbors during 2014-2015. Major foreign investors in Georgia include: BP, Socar, Heidelberg Cement, RAKIA Group and MAF.

Government
Georgia is a democratic, Presidential-Parliamentary republic whereby the President is the Head of State and the Prime Minister is the Head of Government.

As a result of the presidential elections held on October 27, 2013, Giorgi Margvelashvili was elected as the president from the coalition "Georgian Dream". The new cabinet of ministers was established in November, headed by Irakli Gharibashvili.

According to the declared strategy, joining the EU and NATO are among the country’s top foreign policy objectives.

Tax system
To enhance Georgia’s Investment & Business Climate, the Government has dramatically overhauled its tax system since 2004. By implementing a liberal reform agenda, Georgia has simplified its processes and has reduced the number of taxes from 21 in 2004 to only 6 today.

• Value Added Tax (from 20% has been reduced to 18%)
• Income Tax (20%)
• Profit Tax (corporate tax 20% has been reduced to 15%)

These improvements have made Georgia one of the most attractive tax regimes globally. In 2009, Forbes Magazine designated Georgia as the “4th Least Tax-Burdened Country”.

Since 2008 Georgia has initiated and concluded Avoidance of Double Taxation Agreements with its major trade partners. Currently, Georgia has 46 active agreements. Additional reforms are projected to decrease tax rates even further in the next few years.

Population
The Georgian population is approximately 4.49 million. This figure has grown since 2006 by 2%. About 54% of the total population lives in urban areas and the urbanization rate has been increasing since 2006. 83.8% of the Georgian population are Georgians by ethnic origin. The second largest share – 6.5% are Azeri, followed by Armenians – 5.7% and Russians – 1.5%.

Georgia – Country Profile

Recent Developments
In June of 2014, the Association Agreement between Georgia and the European Union was signed. This agreement aims to expand political and economic relations between Georgia and the European Union and to gradually integrate Georgia into the European Union’s internal market.

Georgia’s international ratings has been revised in 2014:
- Standard & Poor’s: BB- Stable (Affirmed in May 2014)
- Moody’s: Ba3 Positive (Affirmed in August 2014)
- Fitch Rating: BB- Positive (Affirmed in October 2014)

The Heritage Foundation ranked Georgia the 22nd among 187 countries in Economic Freedom Ranking.

In the World Bank’s “Ease of Doing Business Index 2014”, Georgia ranks 15th out of the surveyed 189 economies. In the same ranking in 2006 Georgia held the 105th position.

According to the Global Peace Index (GPI) issued by Institute for Economics and Peace (IEP) in 2015, Georgia is fourth safest country in the World.

Business and Investment Environment
Georgian government efforts to reduce corruption in public and private sectors have significantly improved Georgia’s ranking in the World Bank’s Doing Business Survey. By the latest survey it stands on 15th position among 189 countries. Georgia ranks as 1st in property registration, 3rd in dealing with construction permits, 5th in starting a business and 7th in getting the credit.

Among transitional economies, Georgia has improved its ranking in the Corruption Perception Index from 85 to 50 in the years 2002-2005. The Georgian tax system was simplified, customs duties were reduced and procedures for granting licenses and permits were simplified. According to Forbes, Georgia was ranked as 4th least tax burden country in 2008.

At present Georgia enjoys free trade agreement with Turkey and nearly all CIS countries. Georgia is eligible for Most Favored Nation (MFN) treatment from all the WTO member states and is the member of WTO since 2000. Georgia has been granted a Generalized Scheme of Preferences (GSP) treatment by the following countries: the EU, the USA, Japan, Canada, Switzerland and Norway.

The Association Agreement between Georgia and the European Union, signed in June 2014, includes the setting up of a Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Area (DCFTA). The DCFTA has been enacted since September 2014, therefore products or services produced in Georgia can freely access to the EU market with more than 500 million consumers. DCFTA will contribute to economic growth, integration with world markets and global supply chains, and will open new prospects for Georgia and for entrepreneurs doing business in our country. In 2015, the Government of Georgia began negotiations on signing the Free Trade Agreement with the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) that unites Switzerland, Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein. After the signing an agreement with the EFTA, market of high purchasing value will open for the Georgian products and services that unites 4 countries and more that 13 million customers.

Legal System
The Constitution, adopted in 1995, sets out the structure of the national government as well as its powers and functions. The powers of government are divided into three branches – legislative, executive and judicial.

The court system in Georgia has three branches: Courts of First Instance (District or City Courts), Appellate Courts and the Supreme Court. First Instance Courts have jurisdiction over all civil, criminal and administrative cases. Decisions from First Instance Courts may be appealed to the Appellate Courts and, from there, to the Supreme Court.

The Constitutional Court of Georgia is the sole organ of constitutional jurisdiction of Georgia. As an alternative to litigation, Georgia allows for third party arbitration. Georgian law also allows foreign companies to include provisions in their contracts (including those with Georgian entities) that allow for arbitration by international arbitration institutions.

Infrastructure & Transport
Located on the shortest route between Europe and Asia, Georgia’s transport system is a key link in the historic “Silk Road.”

It is believed that long-term growth will stem from Georgia’s role as a transit state for pipelines. Three pipelines currently exist:
- The Baku-Supsa pipeline (GPC-Georgian Pipeline Company) runs 814 km from Baku to Supsa (444 km in Azerbaijan and 370 km in Georgia) and transports “early oil” from the Caspian Sea region.
- The Baku-Tbilisi-Ceyhan (BTC) oil pipeline extends 1,750 km across Azerbaijan, Georgia and Turkey and is designed to transport up to one million barrels of Azeri oil per day. The oil is transported via Georgia to the Turkish port of Ceyhan.
- The South Caucasus Pipeline (SCP) System project was completed in late 2006. The initial capacity of the pipeline is 8.8 billion cubic meters (bcm) of gas per year and, after 2017, its capacity could be expanded to 20 bcm per year. As part of the transit payment, Georgia will receive 5% of the volume of natural gas transited from Azerbaijan to Turkey. One of the main partner and operator of the project is BP.

Four airports with a total capacity of 3,100 passengers per hour, serve the country in Tbilisi, Batumi, Kutaisi and Mestia. The total length of railway amounts 1,612 km, with capacity of 3.3 million passengers per year and the length of roadways amounts 19,109 km. Completion of the Baku-Tbilisi-Kars (BTK) railway in 2015 will also stimulate advancement of Georgian Railway.

Major sea ports are located in Poti and Batumi. The Government of Georgia strives to enhance port infrastructure. For this purpose, particular importance is attached to the construction of the new Deep Sea port in Anaklia. Construction of the new port is strategically important and shall result in significant increase in cargo turnover through Georgia.

Energy
Georgia has a developed, stable and reliable energy sector but efforts are required to improve the efficiency in domestic energy use. The most promising source of additional energy generation is hydropower and the Government is focused on securing private investments for the construction of new hydropower stations.

In 2012 9.694 billion kWh was produced in Georgia and consumption amounted 9.379 billion kWh.

With a large number of planned investments in energy sector it is expected that Georgia will be fully energy self-sufficient by the year 2020.

Executive Summary

The entertainment Industry in Georgia can be divided into four main categories: gambling, cultural entertainment, active entertainment, gastronomy & wine tourism. The main entertainment destinations are Tbilisi and Batumi, but several other locations throughout the country offer various entertainment activities.

The government is actively supporting the development of the gaming industry in the country, which gives Georgia a competitive advantage in the region. The gambling industry accounts for about 70% of the entertainment industry’s total turnover, which equaled GEL 1.2 milliard in 2013. Several international hotel brands are going to open casinos during the next three years (Hilton Batumi, Crowne Plaza Batumi and Millennium Hotel Tbilisi). International entertainment brand Melco Crown plans to enter a Georgian market. The entertainment centre will open in the first half of 2016 as a part of Millennium Hotel Tbilisi.

Georgia – country of ancient culture – offers visitors a wide variety of museums and theatres, concentrated mainly in Tbilisi (Georgian National Museum, Ethnographic Museum, Tbilisi Concert Hall, Rustaveli and Marjanishvili Theatres). The main cultural attractions in Batumi include Ilia Chavchavadze State Drama Theatre and the recently opened Art and Music Centre of Batumi. The Opera House of Kutaisi and the Lado Meskhishvili Drama Theatre are important cultural destinations in Kutaisi.

The only cinema operator in the county is the Georgian company Rustaveli Cinema JSC, which manages three cinemas (Rustaveli and Amirani in Tbilisi and Apolo in Batumi) and plans to expand further in 2015 by opening two new movie theatres in modern shopping centres in Tbilisi totalling 15 screens.

During the next two years several new projects will be completed around the country. The Natanebi Concert Hall, Tbilisi Fine Art Museum and the refurbishment of the Tbilisi Opera house are the major planned projects.

The Government of Georgia is actively seeking to hold international sports tournaments in the country and some of them are already planned, such as the Youth Olympic Games 2015, the UEFA Super Cup 2015, the Chess Youth Olympiad 2015, the Junior World Wrestling Championship 2016, the European Under 19 Football Championship 2016-2017 and the Handball Men’s Youth World Championship 2017. The country’s main stadiums and sports complexes are concentrated in the capital Tbilisi (Boris Paichadze Tbilisi Dinamo Arena, Mikheil Meskhi Stadium and Tbilisi Sports Palace) which will see the development of new sport facilities, such as the new rugby stadium and a new tennis complex. A new football stadium in Batumi and a rugby stadium in Kutaisi were recently announced.

The water entertainment industry (Aqua park and swimming pools) is actively developing in Georgia. The recently opened Gino Paradise and the Euro Park are main players in the country. Completion of a new swimming pool for the Youth Olympic Games 2015 is planned next year. Health and well-being becomes more popular in Georgia, especially in Tbilisi. Aspria Fitness is actively expanding its chain.

The major amusement parks in Georgia are Mtatsminda Park in Tbilisi and Tsitsinatela in Guria. The country also offers three botanical gardens (Tbilisi, Kutaisi and Batumi), two zoos (Tbilisi and Batumi) and several recreation parks. The relocation/expansion of the Tbilisi Zoo and renovation of Park Mziuri are the major planned projects in the near future. Tbilisi and Batumi are the most visited destinations in Georgia. They have the most developed entertainment infrastructure. Red-tiled roofs, narrow streets and ancient buildings as well as modern architecture buildings impress visitors from around the world. Tbilisi offers visitors unique cuisine, gambling, sports and leisure opportunities. Batumi is attractive for sea recreation, gambling and outdoor activities.
The three main winter resorts - Bakuriani, Gudauri and Mestia - include 40 ski runs with a total length of 81 km. From the 2014-2015 winter season artificial snow machines have been installed in Gudauri and Bakuriani. This will significantly help to increase occupancy of Georgia’s winter resorts compared with the previous year. The Government of Georgia is actively promoting the development of the new ski runs on the mountain Tetnuldi in Svaneti and the territory of Goderdzi Pass on the border of Adjara and Samtskhe–Javakheti regions.

The restaurant market is the most developed sector of the Gastronomic industry in Georgia. The Modern Café-Bars and international cuisine market is growing fast, mainly in major tourism destinations – Tbilisi and Batumi. Night clubs are concentrated mainly in Tbilisi and Batumi.

Georgia is one of the oldest wine producing countries in the world. Up to 500 indigenous grape varieties are still cultivated in Georgia. UNESCO added the ancient traditional Georgian winemaking method using the Kvevri clay jars to the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage Lists. Kakheti – the main wine producing region of Georgia – is becoming more and more attractive for international visitors. Several recently developed high class hotels offer customer wine tours and the sector has further potential for development.
Gaming Venues

Surrounded by countries where gambling is prohibited or severely restricted, Georgia has a regional competitive advantage in the gaming business. A steady stream of foreigners from Turkey, Russia, Azerbaijan, Armenia and the Middle East are attracted to Georgia for this reason.

The casino market in Tbilisi and Batumi is better developed than in other Georgian regions. As of December 2014, nine casinos are operating in the country and six casinos are due to open during the next three years.

Besides casinos slot clubs and bookmakers are popular gambling amenities all around the country.

The government has loosened casino regulations to attract foreign and local investments and stimulate the development of the casino business.

Georgia has introduced a flat tax system so that gaming operators no longer have to pay income tax. Payouts are also no longer taxed. Quarterly fees on tables, slot machines and Gaming are required, on top of an annual license for slot machines.

The turnover of gaming venues has been growing since 2009 and reached its highest level of GEL 1,314 mln in 2013. The reported turnover of gaming venues in 2013 is more than three times higher than the same figure for 2011. In the first half of 2014 turnover of the casino industry amounted to GEL 338.1 mln. We expect the annual turnover of gaming venues in 2014 to be lower than in 2013 reflecting a reduced number of tourists from Turkey.

Rustaveli Cinema is the largest movie theatre in Tbilisi, consisting of five screens of various sizes and one VIP cinema hall offering customers additional facilities. The largest hall of the cinema has a capacity of up to 400 seats. Rustaveli Cinema is operated by Rustaveli Cinema JSC, which also operates Amirani Cinema in Tbilisi and Apolo in Batumi.

The supply of movie theatres in Tbilisi will grow sharply in early 2015. A new branch of Rustaveli Cinema will be opened in Tbilisi Mall in 2015. Rustaveli Cinema also plans to open another branch in new shopping center Tbilisi East Point. This movie theatre will consist of 10 screens.

Small scale cinema houses are becoming increasingly popular in Tbilisi offering flexibility and more comfort to the Georgian audience. Several such movie houses are operating in the city, such as Cache and Cinema City.

The cinema market outside Tbilisi is less developed. Apolo is only movie theatre in Batumi. As regards Kutaisi, it is planned to open an entertainment center comprising cinema and bowling club. There are no movie theatres in the vast majority of Georgian cities.

The turnover of cinemas, theatres and museums amounted to GEL 48.4 mln in 2013. In the first half of 2014, the turnover of the sector amounted to GEL 21.8 mln.

Theatres & Concert Hall

Museums

Georgia is a county of diverse cultures and traditions. Museums located in various parts of the country attract visitors with artefacts proving uniqueness of the region.

The vast majority of Georgian museums are concentrated in Tbilisi. The recently refurbished Georgian National Museum and the Ethnographic Museum, occupying 52 hectares of land, are the most visited places of the country.

Mestia is a historical part of Georgia attracting visitors with unique architecture (“Svan Towers”). The Historical and Ethnographical Museum of Mestia preserves artifacts of the noble family Dadeshkeliani dating back to the middle ages, an exhibition of Vittorio Sella’s prints and samples of metal chasing work from the 11th century.

In the near future the Fine Art Museum of Tbilisi will be opened on the central avenue of the city. The museum will launch in 2016. The first and second floors of the building will be assigned to an exposition center and offices for administration. The museum will occupy the upper three floors of the complex.

Stadiums and sports complexes

The reported turnover of sport complexes and stadiums amounted to GEL 24.8 mln in 2013, which is 2.3 times higher than the same figure for 2009. Turnover increased rapidly in 2012 as a result of new football transfer agreements. In the first half of 2014, turnover of the sector amounted to GEL 10.4 mln.

Tbilisi is the most developed region in Georgia for sports infrastructure. Two large stadiums (Boris Paichadze Tbilisi Dinamo arena and Mikheil Meskhi Stadium) are operating in the capital, with the third one (rugby stadium) in the pipeline.

Tbilisi will host the Youth Olympic Games, the UEFA Super Cup in 2015, the Chess Youth Olympiad 2015, the Junior World Wrestling Championship 2016, the European Under 19 Football Championship 2016-2017 and the Handball Men’s Youth World Championship 2017. The government actively supports the development of sports infrastructure in Tbilisi.

A new sports complex is being constructed near Park Mziuri. The complex will host the 2015 Youth Olympic Games and will comprise a central open court with a capacity of 850 seats, eight open courts and two indoor tennis courts accommodating an audience of up to 300.

It is also planned to develop the area of “Dighmis Chalebi”. Under the plan, a water sports complex will also launch in 2015 as a part of the Youth Olympic Games. The complex will be located in Dighomi and will consist of two swimming pools, a gym, fitness centre and sauna.

The existing players in the Georgian aqua park market are Euro Park, the recently opened Gino Paradise in Tbilisi and Aqua Lazika in Anaklia. Euro Park manages four aqua parks throughout Georgia. Its complexes are located in Tbilisi, Batumi, Kutaisi and Telavi. Gino Paradise operates an aqua park which is spread over 22 hectare land plot and includes several swimming pools, saunas and a spa centre.

Health and well-being is growing in popularity, encouraging the development of fitness clubs in Georgia. Major market players are the Aspria Fitness, Club 71, GYM 1 and Arena. Market is dominated by Aspria Fitness currently operating four branches throughout the city. The fitness clubs market is underdeveloped in the rest of country.

A European-standard golf club was recently opened in Kachreti, in proximity to Hotel Ambasadori. It is the first international-standard golf club in the South Caucasus, located on a 35 hectare land plot. The golf club is becoming increasingly popular among foreign travelers.

A rugby stadium is being constructed in Tbilisi, near the US embassy. The stadium will have a capacity of 30,000.

A European standard football stadium is also being built in Batumi, planned to complete in 2017. In Kutaisi, a rugby sports complex on Gamsakhurdia Street is under construction. Complex comprises four stadiums, two of them are already open. Complex will be fully completed in the summer of 2015.

Ski resorts

Gudauri, Bakuriani and Mestia are the major ski resorts located in different regions of the country. Ski tourism has been actively developing during recent years. Artificial snow machines have already been installed in Gudauri and Bakuriani, which will guarantee decent snow base on ski runs and increase number of guests visiting the resorts. Stable demand will stimulate new local and foreign investments in Gudauri and Bakuriani.

Bakuriani is a ski resort in the Borjomi region, located on the northern slope of the Trialeti Mountain Range, at an elevation of 1,700 metres above sea level. Bakuriani is located 2.5 hours drive from Tbilisi. The resort attracts a wide variety of tourists for skiing and winter sports.

Mestia is a relatively new ski resort. It has only two ski runs for now, but the climate in Svaneti gives it potential to grow and become one of the best ski resorts in Georgia. Mestia is four hours drive from Kutaisi – the nearest international airport. The resort attracts tourists with its skiing and hiking opportunities in the winter and summer accordingly. Mestia is one of the most beautiful places in Georgia, with picturesque views of the Caucasus Mountains and ancient Svanetian Towers.

Gastronomy & Wine Tourism

Restaurants, cafes and bars

The turnover of cafes and restaurants has been growing rapidly since 2009 and reached GEL 508.9 mln in 2013. The highest increase occurred in 2011, when the growth amounted to 59%. According to statistics, types of visitors are corporate (30%) and individuals (70%). In total 75% of visitors are locals and only 25% tourists, of which the vast majority is represented by post-Soviet countries.

Supply is dominated by traditional Georgian restaurants providing national dishes and unique environment. Cheese and meat are the main ingredients most of the meals, cooked with walnut, garlic and lots of herbs. The most popular Georgian dishes are Khinkali (Georgian dumpling, mostly filled with spiced meat, herbs, onions, and garlic) and Khachapuri (flatbread filled with cheese or mixture of cheese and butter). Traditional Georgian restaurants provide memorable experience attracting Georgian as well as foreign visitors. Share of traditional Georgian restaurants in total supply in Tbilisi equates 68%. The same figure for Batumi and Kutaisi is 50% and 74%, accordingly.

Foreign cuisine takes up a relatively small proportion of total supply. Eastern dishes are more or less new for Georgian society and are steadily growing in popularity. Foreign traditional restaurants take up 14% and 13% of total supply in Tbilisi and Batumi accordingly.

The share of mixed restaurants (Georgian, European and Asian cuisine), the restaurants providing international dishes is the highest in Batumi and equates 34%. The same figure for Tbilisi and Kutaisi is 18% and 19% accordingly.

Old Tbilisi is the historical part of the city attracting foreigners with its old-style balconies, ancient churches and winding streets. High tourist activity encourages the development of restaurants in the district. Foreign tourists frequently visit restaurants located in Old Tbilisi, their share in total demand is about 40%-50%.

The majority of café-bars and restaurants are concentrated in Tbilisi and Batumi. The development of the gastronomy market in Batumi is mainly encouraged by the growing amount of tourists in the city. As regards Kutaisi gastronomy is relatively underdeveloped and it is dominated by traditional Georgian restaurants.

New restaurant complex is being constructed in the center of Tbilisi, under the Rose Revolution Square Redevelopment Plan. Project will be completed by the end of 2015.

Wine tourism

Georgia is one of the oldest wine regions in the world. The mention of the ancient traditions of vine growing in Georgia (or Colchis and Iberia as it was known in ancient times) can be found in the works of Homer and Apollonius of Rhodes. Up to 500 indigenous grape varieties are still cultivated in Georgia. Among them should be mentioned Rkatsiteli, Chinuri, Saperavi, Aladasturi and Tavkveri. UNESCO added the ancient traditional Georgian winemaking method using the Kvevri clay jars to the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage Lists.

Wine tourism has great potential in Georgia due to an abundance of wines, terrain features, the diversity of Georgian folklore and traditional Georgian food.

Château Mukhrani is among the historic vineries producing high quality product and attracting tourists with a unique experience. It was founded 1878 by the Prince of Mukhrani, heir of the royal family of Georgia. Abandoned during the former Soviet Union, the castle and domain was completely renewed in 2003 by Marussia Beverages and Georgian shareholders. Château Mukhrani, with its heritage, quality, unique domain and cellars is a key attraction in the Georgian wine industry.

Several wineries, which are concentrated mainly in Kakheti, offer their guests the opportunity to get acquainted with winemaking technology, to visit vineyards and to take part in wine testing. These wineries include: Chateau Mere and Schuchmann wines Georgia, Besini, Shumi, GWS and Chateau Telavi.

Tbilisi also offers wine tasting opportunities. Wine stores are mainly concentrated at proximity to Gorgasali Square and Kote Apkhazi Street. Among them should be mentioned recently opened store Meidan Bazaar. In the heart of Tbilisi it provides special experience for tourists: vast variety of unique Georgian wine, national hats, costumes and handmade souvenirs.
Conclusions and Outlook

With a relatively narrow domestic demand base and a strong need for tourism infrastructure improvements, the entertainment industry in Georgia is in a very early stage of development. Until recently, the gaming business was heavily promoted by the government regulations and gave the country a competitive advantage in the region. Until now, only Tbilisi and Batumi, in particular, have benefitted from this.

The low level of supply in this sector is perhaps best illustrated by the fact that the capital Tbilisi accommodates just three movie theatres. Other cultural entertainment facilities are also highly limited throughout the country, with just a handful of (often outdated) museums and concert halls.

This also applies to active entertainment, with a small number of sport complexes and just two relatively small zoo-parks in the entire country.

The relocation and development of modern zoo was recently announced by Tbilisi City hall near the Tbilisi Sea. In the city with a population around 1.2 million inhabitants this may become another investment opportunity for international investors and zoo operators.

The only area where significant developments are taking place is in ski-resorts, with three main locations in Georgia improving their infrastructure and guest facilities. The number of foreign investors and international hotel operators in Gudauri and Bakuriani are recent testimony to latent potential of this segment of the market.

The main development opportunity, however, is related to Georgia’s unique gastronomic culture, featuring the oldest wines in the world and a highly distinct cuisine. With an abundance of unspoiled natural beauty, gastronomic & eco-tourism in Georgia offers a myriad of possibilities. Combined with hotel/resort development prospects, increased investment by both domestic and foreign capital are anticipated in the coming years.

Registration of Property, Construction Permits
Registration of Property

In Georgia, the National Agency of Public Registry is the state institution responsible for registration of property, registering both transfers between private entities and state-owned properties.

In case of private transfer, the purchaser has two options:

- Via a notary – contract drafting and legalization by the notary and subsequent registration. The notary assumes responsibility for the content of the draft and its legalization. The presence of a translator and his signature on the bilingual purchase document is required and the translator assumes responsibility for the authenticity of texts. Time for preparation of the bilingual document and its legalization varies depending on the notary

- Via the National Agency of Public Registry – direct submission of the purchase contract for legalization and registration. In this case, the bilingual purchase document is to be drafted directly by both parties or by their authorized representatives. The Agency’s representative certifies the signatures and may provide recommendations if the document is not accurately drafted, but does not carry any responsibility for the validity or its content.

The National Agency of Public Registry is represented in: a) Public Services Halls (Tbilisi, Gori, Kutaisi, Batumi, Ozurgeti, Mestia, Zugdidi, Rustavi, Marneuli, Gurjaani, Telavi, Kvareli and Akhaltsikhe) and b) regional departments of the National Agency of Public Registry (located in cities throughout the country).

In case the property is purchased from the state/municipality (privatization, auction or other form of purchase) the documents should be submitted directly to the Agency.

The simplified permit procedure may involve just 2 stages and the permit is issued in the second stage.

The terms for the simplified procedure are as follows:

Stage I – 12 days for II and III class buildings
15 days for all IV class buildings, for Gudauri, Bakuriani, Bakhmaro, Ureki recreation territories and for special regulatory zones on the territory of Borjomi (including V class buildings), also for all buildings that require ecological expertise.
