

Sustainability is the “new black” in RE Is the Baltics in line with the new trend?

International market players entering the Baltics require high standards which leads to relatively high certification activity in the development market.

© Colliers International 2019