Urban Air Trampoline & Adventure Park and Bargain Hunt will soon open their first locations in Arkansas at the Conway Towne Center on Skyline Drive.

Urban Air is an indoor park with wall-to-wall trampolines, trampoline basketball, trampoline dodgeball, a stunt bag, warrior course, fitness classes and more. The company has leased 30,411 SF of the former American Furniture Outlet space for the park.

Bargain Hunt offers customers name-brand merchandise at 30-50 percent below normal retail pricing. The company has leased 33,237 SF of the former American Furniture Outlet space for the store.

Justin Bentley, a broker at Colliers International of Arkansas, announced the deals in a news release.

“Conway Towne Center’s easy access to I-40 and Highway 65 as well as its location in one of Arkansas’ fastest-growing cities make it a fantastic choice for both Urban Air and Bargain Hunt,” he said. “We look forward to a long and successful partnership with both businesses.”

Urban Air CEO Michael Browning called Conway “a major destination for family entertainment” and “perfect market” for the company.
