

ASIA CAP RATES

Q3
18

VALUATION & ADVISORY SERVICES | ASIA

Cap rates in Asia generally remained stable in the third quarter, suggesting that the period of continuous yield compression may be over. The exceptions to this were Tokyo and Seoul offices, where cap rates dropped by 25 basis points, Tokyo industrial with a 50 basis points drop and Hong Kong industrial where cap rates edged slightly lower. The only sector that saw a rise was Hong Kong retail.
